The simple gesture of offering a warm DoubleTree Cookie at check-in has become synonymous with the brand's commitment to providing guests with a warm welcome and an unforgettable stay. For more than 30 years, the warm DoubleTree Cookie has played a starring role in differentiating our brand's hospitality from the competition.

A FEW "TID-BITES" ABOUT THIS HOSPITALITY ICON

- In 1986, DoubleTree by Hilton introduced the signature Cookie amenity to guests as a way to build brand loyalty through a nightly turn-down service.
- In 1995, the warm DoubleTree Cookie was transferred to the front desks, illustrating and reiterating the brand's welcoming and caring service.
- A select group of bakeries around the world currently hold the brand's secret recipe, which ensures that the same delicious DoubleTree Cookie is delivered at every DoubleTree by Hilton hotel worldwide.
- From New York and China to Tanzania and Spain, the signature, warm DoubleTree Cookie welcome is presented to our guests around the world and baked fresh daily at each hotel.
- During the 2016 and 2017 winter holiday season, DoubleTree by Hilton celebrated 12 Days of Cookies – a welcomed invite to both guests and non-guests – to stop into any U.S. location and pick up the brand's signature, warm DoubleTree Cookie to save for Santa – or enjoy themselves.
- In 2017, the brand further embraced its signature, warm DoubleTree Cookie welcome by serving up the brand's first-ever cook(ie) book, "We Have Cookies."
- In 2018, DoubleTree by Hilton introduced a new cook(ie) book, "Start with Cookies," featuring 29 recipes from our hotels from 16 countries around the world. The brand also appointed its first-ever Chief Cookie Officer, Roger Maune, executive chef at DoubleTree by Hilton Hotel San Jose in California.
- In 2019, we will continue to spread the warm DoubleTree by Hilton welcome and deliver the hospitality and innovation that's a part of the brand's DNA.
- While the coveted recipe for the warm DoubleTree Cookie is a secret, fans of the signature sweet treat can order the ready-made dough, DoubleTree Cookies or collectible tins at DoubleTreeCookies.com.
